Today's good news

The first reading is taken from the Book of the Prophet Isaiah. Last week we heard of the conclusion of the exodus from Egypt; the first Passover celebration in the land of Canaan. This week we look forward to a new exodus that God promises through the prophet Isaiah. The new exodus promises to be far more wonderful than the first. God promises to restore His people after they have suffered in exile.

The second reading is from the Letter of St. Paul to the Philippians, and is a warning to the Philippians about false teachers; Judaizers who would try to hang on to the old ways while at the same time claiming to be Christians. The Judaizers taught that in order to be a Christian, you first had to be a Jew: to be circumcised and to obey all 613 Old Covenant commandments. This question, whether or not Gentile converts to Christianity must first become full and legal Jews, prompted the Council of Jerusalem.

The Gospel is from St. John and is about the woman caught in adultery. "The two of them were left on their own, the wretched woman and Mercy. But the Lord, having smitten them with the dart of injustice, does not even deign to watch them go but turns his gaze away from them and once more writes on the ground with his finger. But when the woman was left alone and they had all gone, he lifted up his eyes to the woman. We have already heard the voice of justice; let us now hear the voice of gentleness. I think that woman was the more terrified when she heard the Lord say, 'Let him who is without sin among you be the first to throw a stone at her,' . . . fearing now that she would be punished by him, in whom no sin could be found. But he, who had driven away her adversaries with the tongue of justice, now looking at her with the eyes of gentleness, asks her, 'Has no one condemned you?' She replies, 'No one, Lord.' And he says, 'Neither do I condemn you; I who perhaps you feared would punish you, because in me you have found no sin.' Lord, can it be that you favour sinners? Assuredly not. See what follows: 'Go and sin no more.' Therefore, the Lord also condemned sin, but not the woman'.

Jesus, who is the just One, does not condemn the woman; whereas these people are sinners, yet they pass sentence of death. God's infinite mercy should move us always to have compassion on those who commit sins, because we ourselves are sinners and in need of God's forgiveness.

STEWARDSHIP

Stewardship Thought: : In today's second reading, St. Paul says, "For His sake I have forfeited everything; I have accounted all else rubbish so that Christ may be my wealth." Does my stewardship suggest that I could say the same?

Parish Sacrificial Giving (Regular Sunday Offering) In gratitude for the gifts we have received from God, the parishioners and visitors gave $14,550.00 for the ministries of St. Teresa. Second collection amounted to $2594.00. Thank you for your continued support and generosity. God bless.

5th Sunday of Lent

Trust Him. Trust that He deeply loves you. Trust that He has a plan for you. Trust that He is always with you. Trust that His mercy is far greater than any sin. Accept His love. Accept His love that led Him to the Cross. Accept His love that went through immense suffering so that He wouldn't have to live without you. Accept His love from His Sacred Heart that beats for you.

Turn away from sin. Make a commitment today to continue to hold fast to your Lenten resolutions. Make a commitment to continue to seek Him even when it's hard and when life is busy.

At a recent Mission talk, Father described the importance of the Cross—as our hope and the ‘proclamation of Christian JOY. He referred to John 1—
“the cross is presented as a gift to the world”.

Ave crux, spes unica is a Latin pious expression or motto meaning “Hail to the Cross, our only hope.” The expression has a long history in Catholic piety and is a motto occasionally used by bishops and church institutions.

The inscription forms the shape of a cross, with O C R V X A V E downward and S P E S V N I C A forming the cross piece.

O Crux ave, spes unica, hoc Passionis tempore!
piis adauge gratiam,
reisque dele crimina.

O hail the cross our only hope in this passiontide
grant increase of grace to believers and remove the sins of the guilty.

In John 1 he states: The cross is the fullest revelation of the glory of Jesus, full of enfolded associations with healing, birth, victory, solidarity-in-suffering: the whole identity of Christ as the incarnate Son of the God of love is revealed in the image of the cross. The cross therefore becomes suffering redeemed: a greater beacon of hope is hard to imagine. The cross of Jesus is unique, certainly, in its salvific power; and yet from it flows into the lives of all God’s people the potential for suffering to be transformed. To gaze upon the cross is to find healing, and to discover the power of the love of God, over which no darkness can prevail.

Father Chris encouraged us to keep the cross close as we live, pray and go about our daily life.

Hail to the Cross, our only hope

5TH SUNDAY OF *L*ENT

Fifth Sunday of Lent

Isaiah 43:16-21

Flowing Waters

Turn on the faucet at home and get running water. Drinking water is close at hand, ready to use and abundant. The faucet is a sign of God's promise.

It wasn't always that way. People could not live far from a water source. Desert areas went uninhabited and uncharted because no one could stay there very long without ample drinking water.

Through Isaiah, God promised a day when water would flow in the desert. As proof of God's power, Isaiah invited the people to recall the marvels God had done in the past. During the Exodus, as the Israelites fled Egypt, they went through the sea dry shod, but the waters closed on the chariots, horses, and army of Pharaoh, all following in pursuit. God marvelously preserved the Israelites in the past. God would marvelously preserve them again. God is doing something new. It springs forth in the sight of believers.

As Easter draws near, we think about the water God keeps close at hand—not just the water of the faucet, but the water of your church's font. There water flows freely for those who seek Christ. God has prepared a way in the deserts of the human heart for water to flow, to give life, and to transform.

This Lent we reflect not only on the desert of our sin, but also on the signs of God's presence. "In the desert I make a way," God says, "in the wasteland, rivers."

From Pope Francis on the Lenten Path:

Dear brothers and sisters, the "lenten" period of forty days spent by the Son of God in the desert of creation had the goal of making it once more that garden of communion with God that it was before original sin. May our Lent this year be a journey along that same path, bringing the hope of Christ also to creation, so that it may be "set free from its bondage to decay and obtain the glorious liberty of the children of God". Let us not allow this season of grace to pass in vain! Let us ask God to help us set out on a path of true conversion. Let us leave behind our selfishness and self-absorption, and turn to Jesus' Pasch. In this way, by concretely welcoming Christ's victory over sin and death into our lives, we will also radiate its transforming power to all of creation.
